The 2018 NIH Spring
Biomedical Research Equipment and Supplies Exhibit

The Technical Sales Association, a nationwide member-led organization based in greater metropolitan Washington, DC, invites you to exhibit at the 2018 NIH Spring Biomedical Research Equipment and Supplies Exhibit.

Begun as a one-room laboratory of Hygiene in 1887, the National Institutes of Health today is one of the world's foremost biomedical research centers, and the Federal focal point for biomedical research in the U.S.

The NIH mission is to expand fundamental knowledge about the nature and behavior of living systems and to improve and develop new strategies for the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of disease and communicate the results of research with the goal of improving health. NIH works toward that mission by: conducting research in its own laboratories; supporting the research of non-Federal scientists in universities, medical schools, hospitals, and research institutions throughout the country and abroad; helping in the training of research investigators; and fostering communication of biomedical information.

The NIH is one of eight health agencies of the Public Health Service which, in turn, is part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Comprised of 28 separate Institutes and Centers, NIH has 85 buildings on more than 300 acres in Bethesda, MD. From a total of about $300 in 1887, the NIH budget has grown to exceed 37 billion in 2017.

The 2018 Exhibit will be held in Lot 10H, the long time home of the annual Fall Exhibit. This location affords us superb visibility, easy access and a strategic location in relation to the rest of the NIH campus. Over 200 companies will showcase their latest product developments to over 1500 NIH Research professionals from the NIH community. Some of the features include a food truck park picnic for attendees and refreshments each day.
